

Hello Simone

You are an amazing woman! I know I have been far from perfect, but I promise to be a man true to God, you and myself!

I've self-examined my flaws and have put things in place on my own that will help me be a better man and husband!

I hope we can find a way to reconcile and start working towards a new beginning with each other!

Of course, that's my desire, but whatever the future holds for us, I sincerely wish the best for you and support you as a woman!

I hope at the end of the day, whatever happens between us, that we can look at the best of each other and support each other's growth in God and life!

I can promise, that if we were to push towards reconciliation, you will have a man devoted to being totally honest with you, that will put you first after God. I will put up guardrails and boundaries to ensure that you are treated as a wife ought to be treated and be sure that anyone or anything, other than God, comes second to your needs and desires.

I love you and pray you are doing great!

Your Husband,

Darius
